ABBOTT CIGAR STORE AND BILLIARD HALL TOKEN, C.1910

This rare and unusual aluminum token (good for 10 cents in trade) was created for a business which inhabited the Abbott House (Hotel). The Abbott House was originally constructed in 1873 by Carlisle Abbott, local businessman and landowner, upon the 100 block of Main Street in Salinas. The hotel was eventually sold to the Cominos Brothers in 1919 and renamed the Hotel Cominos. After extensive renovation, this hotel would eventually serve politicians and dignitaries from across the globe wishing 1st class accommodations in the Salinas Valley. The hotel was eventually torn down and the land used as a parking lot until Taylor Farms purchased the site and built its company headquarters.

Save the Date!

PLEASE ATTEND OUR
DEDICATION, COMMEMORATION & DEVELOPMENT EVENT!
Saturday, May 18 from 10am-3pm

We are very pleased to request the honor of your presence for a remarkable day here at the Boronda Adobe History Center. The program promises to be a historic day in its own right for the Monterey County Historical Society because several important events are happening. It will be 50 years to the very day that the Boronda Adobe was placed on the California Landmarks Registry and will be open for viewing. We will also be rededicating the newly restored monument honoring the members of Company C who served and sacrificed in the Philippine Islands (Bataan) in World War II at 11am. In addition, we will be dedicating our beautifully completed Victorian Gumper-Castro Memorial Library at 1pm. Artist and author Lynn Butler will host a pop-up art exhibition as well as sign copies of her newest book, titled, "Flames Against the Dark: Saving America's Sacred Sites" in the Lagunita Schoolhouse from 11am-2pm. These events are open to the public and free of charge. We will have several food trucks present offering food/beverages during that time and we certainly look forward to your attendance!

COMPANY C BATAAN MONUMENT RESTORATION & REDEDICATION

On April 8, 2006, The Company C Bataan Monument at the Boronda History Center was dedicated to the one hundred and five brave men of Company C 194th Tank Battalion of the Salinas and Pajaro Valleys. Mills construction team worked diligently, even on rainy stormy days, to meet the April 8th deadline. The dedication was a tremendous success with approximately 250 people in attendance including several members of Company C who served our nation during WWII in the Philippines.

It was a privilege for the historical society to honor their service by having this monument created and sustain their memory by presenting the history of their sacrifices in a poignant and noble way. As you are well aware, the climate of this part of the Salinas Valley is unforgiving to objects of metal when it comes to preservation. The historical society aspired to have the monument restored and fortuitously located two particularly brilliant gentlemen for this endeavor: Chris Akimoto, owner of ProBlast Restoration in Watsonville and Nick Maciel, owner of Maciel Metalworks in Salinas. Akimoto and Maciel spent the month of November and December carefully attending to every aspect of restoration and we are very pleased with their results which shall provide long-term protection from the environmental elements.

On Saturday, May 18 at 11am, we will have a rededication ceremony including a benediction and prayer for those who served and continue to serve our nation with a placement of a memorial wreath upon the monument. Members of the 149th Armor Unit, successors of Troop C, will be in attendance and we will also have an operable WWII Half-Track Tank on display as well!

LYNN BUTLER, AUTHOR & PHOTOGRAPHER

The enchanted ancestral lands of America's native tribes are under threat. Ancient traditions collide with modern realities, a stark reminder of the fragility of time and the importance of preservation. Acclaimed photographer Lynn H. Butler has long been passionate about documenting America's sacred sites before they disappear. Now, with her new book Flames Against the Dark

Against the Dark, Saving America's Sacred Sites, Lynn turns her visionary camera lens on the magical tribal lands of America's indigenous people. Flames Against the Dark features Lynn's poetic, hauntingly beautiful on-location photos, many taken while on horseback, as she travels from coast to coast across America on her mission to preserve the past, by camera. The book is a poignant homage to the Native American lifestyle and spiritual connection to our earth.

THE GUMPER-CASTRO ARCHIVAL LIBRARY
PROGRESS AND DEDICATION

The desire for an archival library has been a focus for the Historical Society for a number of years. The decision to move forward with the construction of the library was that of Vice President of the Society's governing board, Robert Baillie. During the many conversations between James Perry, Robert Baillie and Tom Spencer, Head of Restoration and Construction,

Tom brought forward the idea of incorporating the Society's interior woodwork from the Jesse D. Carr House into the library design. The Carr Mansion was demolished in 1964 and a number of valuable pieces of walnut woodwork including fireplace mantels and stair railings were preserved by the Historical Society. Once the decision was made to incorporate these historical pieces, the rest of the design work and the handling of the subcontractors was turned over to Tom. The end result of this two year project is the recreation of an 1885 Victorian library in the Eastlake Style.

The basic shell of the rooms was constructed by SSB Construction, followed by the installation of the Carr House woodwork. Many missing pieces had to be recreated out of matching materials including walnut, pine, and redwood. Many of these new materials had to be hand wood-grained to match the originals by Gail Spencer. The walnut bookcases were custom built by John Laughton Cabinets. This was followed by the installation of Bradbury and Bradbury wallpaper by Gary Sarian of Ameri-Cana Decorating. The wood flooring will be the last major piece of the library and was donated to the Society by Tad Hughes in memory of Larry Vera. None of this would have been possible without the volunteer help of Larry Smith who helped at every stage of installation of the materials.

The room will be completed with authentic period-correct furnishings, including Eastlake style tables, chairs, settees, rugs and light fixtures. The walls will be hung with artwork from the Society's collection, two commissioned alcohol ink painted windows, and a restored leaded glass window from 216 Main Street, Salinas. This endeavor was meant to create a dedicated space for historical research, using curated artifacts of local significance, highlighted and restored to their original beauty.

THE HEIRLOOM GARDEN IS GROWING!

The Monterey County Historical Society is engaged in the implementation of the Heirloom Garden on our campus. Fully realized phase one of the Garden will contain heirloom fruit trees, Monterey Cypress, California Pepper, and Live Oak trees, nine raised beds for vegetables and herbs, a rose garden, a split-rail fence to trellis grape vines (from cuttings of the original vines at Mission San Miguel), and a large section of California natives.

The initial grading of the site has been followed up by the placing of the base material for the brick walkway through the garden. The trees for the windbreak have been planted and we received a donation of four heirloom fruit trees from Thom Taft that have been placed. We received a generous donation of mulch from Keith Day Enterprises of Marina.

The garden is ready for the next phase which will include installation of a drip irrigation system, construction of nine raised vegetable beds, the split rail fence, and the planting of California natives. To continue the momentum of this project we are looking for donations of time, materials, or funding. If you would care to contribute in anyway, please contact Dawn Avery, Director of Heritage Garden Projects at 831-594-6144 or daverymbmg2012@gmail.com to discuss your contribution.
